DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendment dated December 23, 2009, received in response to the BPAI Decision affirming the examiner in part has cancelled claims 1, 3-10, 12-19, 21-24. Claims 2, 11, and 20 have been amended to include all features of cancelled claims 1, 10, and 19. Independent claims 2, 11, and 20 each include the feature not taught by the prior art as deemed by the BPAI decision dated December 23, 2009.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2, 11, and 20 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. The independent claims of the Applicant's invention are directed towards a system, computer readable code loaded in memory for execution on a computer, and a method of providing a reward to a user of the Internet for desired website visiting behavior. Prior art was found that teaches loading a first web document over the Internet to a user's computer that contains hyperlinks to different servers which contain a second web document, monitoring whether the user selects said hyperlink to navigate to said second document, detecting and/or monitoring whether said user returns to said first document, and providing a reward to the user for returning to the first web document from the second document (Lowell : US. Patent Number: 6,381,632; Himmel: US Patent Number 6,321,256; Yacenda: US Patent Number

Art Unit: 3622

6,383,078 and WO 01/70359). Lowell further discloses that the awards are only provided if a time value is less than a threshold value. However, prior art was not found that discloses a timer that is started and stopped to determine a time value corresponding to when the user selects the hyperlink and when the user returns to the first web document and this time value is compared to two both a first and a second threshold value and providing the award if the timer value is greater than the first threshold value and smaller than the second threshold value.

Any comments considered necessary by the applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee, and to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
